How we reached to 13 hours work

1. Memoranda years (2010 – officially 2018)
    - During the sovereign debt crisis, changes in labor law were permanent conditionality every time when Greece had to cash a reimbursement from the loans
    - The most striking changes:
      - a. Abolition of collective bargaining (February of 2012).
      - b. Official reductions to salaries around 20%.
      - c. In private sector were much bigger, even 50%.
- Establishment of a new category for salaries around 20% lower for the youth (a few years later this change was abolished).
- All these changes passed in Greek law, under the pressure of Greek industrialists (SEV)
- Monitoring of Greek economy has never stopped.
- Enhanced surveillance of Greek economy will last many decades more (to the repayment of 75% of EU loans).

2. During the SYRIZA govt (2015-2019) the law that abolished collective bargaining remained unchanged. In addition became stronger while the then govt under the auspices of industrialists renewed and extended the law. (The first law defined its power during the sovereign debt crisis).

- As a result, till now, the basic wage and salary change after an announcement of the Labor Minister, without negotiations between the so-called social partners.

- Abolition of sectoral collective agreements: A continuously bigger part of employees (the higher in EU) is working under no collective agreement

How we reached to 13 hours work

3. During the nowadays govt of New Democracy (mix of neoliberals with pro-fascists and ex supporters of military junta 1967-1974), we had a flood of labor laws. Every year a new law was voted. The most important:

4808/2021: “For the protection of law” (Minister Kostis Hatzidakis)

- Introduced the digital time card
- “Gave the right to employees for arrangement of working time for an extended period of time” (“Those workers who want to go to collect olives can work 10 hours as a means to collect holidays”)

5053/2023: “For the enhancement of labor” (Minister Adonis Georgiades)

- “Right to work” 13 hours a day on two employers
- Legalization of 6th day of work
- Much more sectors have the license to work even on Sunday (food industry, greenhouses, etc.)
- Criminalization of solidarity: strict financial penalties for trade unionists who participate in solidarity demonstration in a working place, closing its entrance.

Law 5239/2025 (13 h/d)

Minister of Labor Anna Kerameos (like the previous ones she has never worked in her life)

- “Right to work” 13 hours a day in 1 employer (40% increase in salary as compensation)
- According to the govt isn’t obligatory it’s optional
- “Fast track” hiring (“as a means to confront bureaucracy”)
- 1 working day contract

What it means?

- Further segmentation of working class and labor relations
- Deterioration of social & family life
- Increase of accidents during working hours
- Rise in exploitation of working class

This law is servicing the sector HORECA (Hotel, Restaurant & Catering) & broader Tourism sector due to 80.000 vacancies (400.000 working seats, out of 4,3 million total labor force in Greece)

As a conclusion:
*Greece is a great place
to visit as a tourist, if you have a lot of money to spend, but not to live or work...*

Thanks!
